

Analog Devices Recognizes Strategic Suppliers for Excellence in Quality, Reliability, and Support

2011 ADI Supplier Excellence Awards acknowledge 14 companies for outstanding adherence to rigorous manufacturing standards, supply continuity, and service

NORWOOD, Mass.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Analog Devices, Inc. (ADI), a global leader in high-performance semiconductors for signal processing applications, honored 14 companies with the 11th Annual "Supplier Excellence Awards" during a ceremony held in Hong Kong March 27. This year, the group of 14 suppliers was selected from among the more than 2,000 companies that contribute to ADI's global semiconductor manufacturing operations.

The ADI "Supplier Excellence Awards" distinguish those companies that meet the rigorous standards of the ADI supplier program. The winners must demonstrate an exceptional commitment to manufacturing excellence and leadership, and the on-time delivery of goods and services. Those suppliers cited by Analog Devices must also maintain high quality and reliability standards, deliver cost reduction initiatives, and display a proven dedication to technology advancement and continuous improvement.

The winners for 2011 by category and supplier location are:

Contracted Production:

Test Solution Services, Inc., Laguna, Philippines
Amkor Technology, Chandler, Arizona
Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Company Ltd. \(TSMC\), Hsinchu, Taiwan

Critical Indirect Materials:

Special Achievement:

Dainippon Screen, Sunnyvale, California
MEI, LLC, Albany, Oregon
Photronics Inc., Brookfield, Connecticut

"Analog Devices recorded $3 billion in revenue last fiscal year—a new company high. These 14 suppliers stand out among the many suppliers that help us maintain high quality and reliability while keeping 99 percent of our products available within 4 weeks and 100 percent of our products available in 6 weeks or less," said Vince Simonelli, director of global purchasing for Analog Devices Inc. "Our strategic suppliers are vital to ADI's mission to deliver high-performance signal processing products. We congratulate the 2011 Supplier Excellence Awards winners for their innovation and responsiveness."
